

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

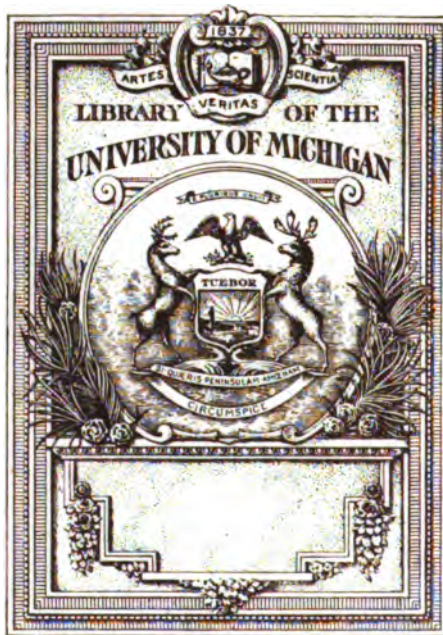

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. 1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that the study of history is essential for a full understanding of the present and for the development of a sense of national identity. The author points out that the study of history is not only a means of learning about the past, but also a way of understanding the present and of shaping the future.

2. The second part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that the study of history is essential for a full understanding of the present and for the development of a sense of national identity. The author points out that the study of history is not only a means of learning about the past, but also a way of understanding the present and of shaping the future.

PREFACE

AFTER continuous publication for twenty-three years by Mr. Robert H. Dodd, "American Book-Prices Current" has now changed hands, and the present publishers will use every endeavor to maintain the splendid standard of excellence that this publication has always had.

Mr. Luther S. Livingston compiled the work for many years, and since his death the work has been carried on by his former assistant, Miss C. E. Dyett, who has compiled the present volume. This record of sales of the season of 1917-18 was already nearly completed and partly in the printer's hands when Mr. Dodd retired from active business and transferred the publication to them, so that it will be found uniform in every respect with the former volumes.

This season's record is undoubtedly one of the most interesting that have so far been recorded. In the first place the United States was actively engaged in the great war, and despite the Liberty Loans and the great changes in the commercial world, good books not only held their value but also their percentage of increase. It will be noticed that of the many items that came up for sale the majority were unusually good, and this improvement in the quality together with the maintenance of values is a sincere compliment to the American collector.

Of the many sales held during the season, the foremost were those comprising duplicates and selections from the library of Mr. Henry E. Huntington, sold in four parts, in which were many unusually fine Shakespeare and other Elizabethan items, including one of the great monuments of English literature, Milton's "Comus," the extremely rare first edition of 1637, and the copy long known as one of the treasures of the Bridge-water Library, which changed hands at $9200.00. Special mention should also be made of the library of the late Mr. Winston H. Hagen, selling through seven sessions and containing many fine items, among others being the first edition of Gray's "Elegy," 1751, which brought $4350.00; also a "Paradise Lost" which brought $1510.00.

There was a fine collection of Shakespeareana disposed of in February, containing nearly a thousand items. There were also many fine libraries of miscellaneous books, among which should be mentioned the collections of John D. Crimmins, Mark Robinson, William Bunker, Alexander Drake, the art director associated for so many years with the Century Company, and James Buchanan Brady.

Another point of interest was the various sales in which all the items more or less pertained to one subject. There was one sale of books entirely on Hawaii. The collection of Col. C. McK. Leoser contained undoubtedly more items to do with the subject of wine than had ever been brought together before. There was the Shakespearean collection already mentioned; several collections of Americana; the Quakeriana collection of the late Charles Roberts; the library of the late George W. Smalley, interesting because so many of the books were of association interest; the library of the late Townsend D. Cock containing what might be termed "readers' books"; there were a few rare items, but mostly choice editions for a fine private library, and these sold unusually well and brought good prices. The collections of the late Harris B. Dick and William B. Dick contained fine theatrical material.

It is quite reasonable to assume that no copy of "American Book-Prices Current" has ever been sold that did not pay for itself, and it has now become indispensable to dealers. It is sincerely hoped that the present volume will meet the requirements and expectations of its many subscribers, both here and in Europe.

The following scheme of the record is reprinted from the earlier volumes:

The present volume contains records of 14,182 lots selected from 119 catalogues describing some 86,065 lots. As it may come into the hands of some persons not familiar with the work, the following explanation of the abbreviations used and of the scheme of the work is reprinted from the earlier volumes.

The name of the author (or, in the case of anonymous books, the first word of the title) is set in black-faced capitals.

Club or Press publications are (generally) under the Club or Press, and a few other books, such as anonymous histories and biographies, are entered under their subject. The titles of the various works of an author, printed in black-faced lower case type, are arranged in alphabetical order. This is followed by the place where printed, the printer (in a few cases), the date, and the size of the volume. The first portion of the description is general and applies to all copies of the work. Following this general description is the specific description of the copy or copies of the book as sold, each lot beginning a new line. This specific description is made up as follows:

First. A description of the binding, the abbreviations being those which are universally used and understood.

Second. A statement as to the condition of the particular copy recorded, if on large paper, if with extra plates inserted, if from a famous library, etc.

Third. The name of the sale where a name was given on the catalogue. This does not mean in every case that the name as given is that of the owner of the book, as additions from other unannounced sources are often included with books of a known owner.

Fourth. Capital letter, indicating the name of the auctioneer under whose management the sale took place.

A. is the Anderson Galleries.

B. is Charles F. Heartman.

G. is the American Art Association.

H. is Stan. V. Henkels.

L. is C. F. Libbie and Company.

S. is Scott and O'Shaughnessy, Inc.

W. is the Walpole Galleries.

Fifth. The date of the sale. In case of sales of more than a single day's duration, this date is that of the first day of the sale.

Sixth. The lot number in the original sale catalogue.

Seventh. The price realized. This is the price for the lot, not per volume.

December, 1918.

[Contains many corrections in Shelley's autograph. It was discovered in Dublin by Edward Dowden, Shelley's biographer, who says of it on p. 399 of his "Life of Shelley." "The second, a much more interesting volume, which I picked up in Dublin, on a moving hand-cart of old books, is bound in calf, and has the name 'Mary' lettered on the side; it is, I believe, Shelley's gift to Mary Godwin, and the errata, as recorded in print, are written by Shelley on margins of pages and between the lines. How it came to Dublin I cannot conjecture."—Catalogue.]
